Statistics Show Increase In Marriages And Deaths

RECEPTION TO REV. AND MRS. EDWARD ALLEN MORRIS

Wednesday evening a reception was tendered Rev. and Mrs. Edward Allen Morris by the ladies of the Orthodox Congregational church, their pastor and his wife, in the vestry of the church. In spite of the extreme cold night, there was a large number present, who thus showed their interest in the new pastor and his charming wife, by their presence. The room was made inviting by the use of palms and rugs, advantageously placed and a trio, made up of Miss Marguerite Rich, violin; Mabel Belyea, pianist, and Pearl Andreen, cellist, dispensed music throughout the evening. While the reception was informal, young men of the church acted as ushers. They were Richard Bird, Ernest Snow, John Winner, James Jones and I. W. Cameron.

Ice cream and cake was served by a group of attractive young women, who were Misses Dorothy Jones, Ruth Shervington, Anna Lacey, Ellen Harrington, Gertrude Savage, Adelaide Morris and Frances Henderson. Mrs. Rodney T. Hardy and Mrs. William E. Hardy presided over the coffee urns from a prettily appointed table with floral decoration in the center.

The committee arranging for the evening was: Mrs. Eugene R. Vinal, president of the Bradshaw Missionary Association; Mrs. Ralph Day, president of the Friendly Folk; Mrs. Morton C. Bradley, Mrs. Frank P. Stearns, Mrs. E. E. Brainard, Mrs. Walter E. Lannefeld, Mrs. Wilson D. Clark, Jr., Mrs. R. E. Patten, Mrs. Forsythe. The board of the Bradshaw and that of the Friendly Folk presented Mrs. Morris with a large bouquet of spring flowers which she carried as an arm bouquet.

The number of marriages recorded with the Town Clerk of Arlington for the year ending December 31, 1926, numbered 351, which is an increase of 14 over those of 1925, the number for that year being 337. The residents of the town married were: 332, against 380 last year, and the number of non-residents was 310 against 294 for 1925. Of the number 351, 175 were solemnized out of town, 158 being the number for the year previous. The oldest groom for the past year was 65 years and the youngest groom was 18. The oldest bride was 63 and the youngest, 15. In the analysis of the year 1925, the oldest groom was 71 and the youngest 18, while the oldest bride was 55 and the youngest 17.

Deaths for the past year, ending December 31st, 1926 in Arlington, totaled 316. 149 were males and 167, females. Forty of this number were non-residents who died in Arlington, and 72 of the number were residents who died out of town. Thirty-five of the number were children under one year of age; 15 between the ages of 1 and 10 years; 27 between 10 and 30 years; 90 between 30 and 60 years, and 146 between 60 and 90, and 3 over 90 years of age. It would be interesting to know that all three were women. The following figures for the year of 1925 might make an interesting comparison, there being 310 deaths, 145 male and 165 female. Of this number, 42 non-residents died in Arlington, and 74 residents died out of town; Children who died under one year of age, numbered 26; between one and ten years, 14; between 10 and 30, 25; between 30 and 60, 102; between 60 and 90, 136, and over 90, 7. Of the seven, six were female and one, male.

TERHUNE OPERA COMPANY PRESENT "BOHEMIAN GIRL"

The Terhune Opera Company added another success to their already long list of brilliant successes on Wednesday evening in their presentation of the light opera, "The Bohemian Girl." The 300 Club of the Calvary Methodist Church fostered the presentation and Robbins Memorial Town Hall was well filled as a result of their efforts and the announcement that the Terhune Opera Company was to appear here. It was a very enthusiastic audience who applauded generously this beautiful opera by Balfe, with all its best solos, duets, trios, quartets and choruses. The company was personally directed by Harry R. Pierce of the Boston Lyceum Bureau. The company appeared a year ago at the Boston Square and Compass Club in Boston, where it met such great favor that as a compliment to W. L. Terhune, president of the club, it was given his name.

January 26, 1927.

Dear Dr. Gill:

Now that you are giving up the active work of the ministry among us, we, your friends and parishioners, wish to express to you something of our appreciation of the value of that work.

For thirty-five years, you have given us the results of your thought and study on the highest of all subjects, have been our friend and helper in times of happiness and of sorrow, and have set us the example of a Christian life. The effects of such a ministry, seen and unseen, are real and lasting.

The gift which we enclose carries with it our warmest hopes that you have before you many tranquil years, which, relieved from the heavier burdens of an exacting profession, may bring with them much of usefulness to others and happiness to yourself.

On behalf of friends and fellow parishioners,

Most sincerely yours,

FORMER EMPLOYEE OF PEIRCE & WINN CO. DIES SUDDENLY

Mrs. Emma G. Lewis, for many years a faithful employee in the office of Peirce & Winn Co., died suddenly early Sunday morning, Jan. 23, after a sickness of three days, at her home, 77 South Loring street, Lowell.

Mrs. Lewis was a woman of loving and kindly disposition and endeared herself to all with whom she came in contact, and by her death will be greatly missed by her many friends and relatives.

The funeral, which was held Tuesday at 2:30 in Lowell, was attended by Mr. Walter Peirce of the Peirce & Winn Company, and Miss Jennie Timmons, the latter who was associated with Mrs. Lewis for many years in the office of this firm. The burial was in Lowell. The deceased is survived by three children, Irving C. Lewis, who was formerly employed by the R. W. Shattuck Company, hardware dealers of this town; Leon L. Fight Fire Three Hours In Freezing Cold and Wind

? WHY ?

Why not get a few men out with picks and break up the ice in the gutters so that when a thaw does come the water will run freely to the catch basins and not all over the streets?

Why not have a sort of follow up crew to dig out the ruts leading into the streets? Some of them are deep and dangerous.

Why not have someone, if the local coach has not the pull, get the High school ice hockey team into the Arena for their games? Other schools get there; why not Arlington? Here is an absolute fact: It was Arlington High that made this Arena! Our boys (we had state-wide reputation in ice hockey then) were the drawing card in the early days. It was former Arlington High players who later joined the B. A. A., the Boston Hockey Club and others, that made this Arena what it is today. History will show that Arlington was foremost in this movement at the time, her sons drew crowds that advertised the place and eventually got the management so puffed up that they now overlook Arlington. Someone must know how this can be done and should get in touch with the High school coach.

Pupils of Marie Josephine Frazer will appear in the mid-year recital at Robbins Memorial Town Hall, Friday evening, January 28th. General dancing will follow. 21Jan27

Fifty Years Ago This Week

Last Sunday afternoon the new Episcopal church, on the corner of Academy and Maple streets, was opened for the first time. The attendance was quite large, and the exercises were of an interesting character. Hereafter services will be held morning and afternoon, at the usual hours for church service, and there will also be the regular session of the Sunday School. The chapel, or church, is very neat and convenient.

The annual fair of the Universalist church, under the management of the ladies of the society, was opened in Town Hall last Thursday afternoon.

Next Tuesday evening, the ninth annual ball, or social levee, as the committee designates it, of Bethel Lodge, No. 12, I. O. O. F., will be held in Town Hall. In years past these have been the most successful of all the parties in town, and the prospects are that this one will be more enjoyable than its predecessors.

The Moody and Sankey Tabernacle in Boston, was dedicated Thursday. Addresses were delivered by Rev. Reuben Thomas, Rev. R. R. Meredith, Rev. E. B. Webb, D. D., Rev. William Wilberforce Newton, and Bishop R. S. Foster. The attendance was very large.

We are informed that brothers and sisters of children confined to the house with scarlet fever are allowed to attend school. This should not be so. If there is no order or rule which applies to such cases, one should be made and enforced at once.

The space cleared by the Addison Gage Ice Company by the removal of the old ice to their houses, has frozen over, and now affords a skating ground such as is rarely seen. The boys and girls appreciate it, and during this week have thoroughly enjoyed it.

The teachers of the Sunday school connected with St. Malachi (Catholic) church, together with the church choir, enjoyed a sleighride to Brighton, last Thursday evening, where they had a supper.

Rev. G. W. Cutter, pastor of the Unitarian church, will preach his farewell discourse next Sunday afternoon. The services will commence at 10.45 o'clock, and a cordial invitation is extended to all.

IN 1902

Twenty-five Years Ago This Week

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Wyman left town this week for a trip to Jamaica which will extend over several weeks.

Arlington Baptist Society of C. E. will meet Sunday evening at 6.30 p. m. "Christian Endeavor, its past and its future," will be the topic. Leader, Mr. Harold L. Frost.

The Arlington Historical Society will meet in Pleasant Hall, Maple street, Arlington, on the evening of Tuesday, Jan. 28th at 8 o'clock. The speaker will be Mr. G. Y. Wellington, president of the society, whose subject will be "As I Remember."

Coasting has been elegant and boys and girls—some of a larger growth—have improved the shining hours, even if it is moonshine.

The Sunday School of Park Avenue church elected its officers for another year on Sunday, and completed its organization. The superintendent

Mrs. Wm. Finley, wife of the caretaker at Arlington High School, was given a surprise party one evening last week at her home, No. 9 Grove street, which proved an enjoyable occasion in every respect.

The Sunshine Club was entertained by Mrs. H. H. Kendall this week Wednesday. Prizes were taken by Mrs. T. A. Jernegan and Mrs. Torrey of Rockport. Refreshments were served in the dining room. The next week's meeting will be with Mrs. B. C. Haskell.

Gentlemen's Night at the Arlington Woman's Club occurs next Thursday evening, January 30th, in Town Hall, when Mrs. Ruth McEnery Stuart will give readings from her works. The choral class will sing three attractive selections, two of which will not only be accompanied by Mrs. Herbert M. Chase, the regular pianist of the club, but will further be enhanced with violin obligatos played by Miss Edith Trowbridge. Miss Trowbridge will also give a violin solo, and a well known baritone will have a place on the program. Truly an attractive program for the club members' guests.

Quite a part of the Heights have made application for membership of the Old Belfry Club at Lexington, and have participated in some of the social events held there this winter, through the courtesy of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Livingston, already members of the club. Those applying for membership are Mr. Clarence T. Parsons, Mr. Chas. G. Brockway, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Kendall, Miss Edith M. Kendall and Mr. W. O. Partridge.

FRIENDLY FOLK ARE TO GIVE ONE-ACT PLAY

The Friendly Folk held its monthly supper and meeting Tuesday evening in the vestry of the Orthodox Congregational church. The supper, a casserole, was charmaned by Mrs. R. E. Patten, who was assisted by Mrs. Everett G. Cobb, Mrs. James Hadley, Mrs. Juanita Moses, Mrs. Esterbrook, Mrs. Arthur Forsythe, Miss Frances Henderson, Miss Dorothea Johnson and Mrs. Allen. Following the supper, the president, Mrs. Ralph Day, presided over the business, when it was announced that at the next meeting, which will be February 15th, a one-act play will be presented previous to which a turkey supper will be served. The speaker of the evening was Miss Ruby Phillips of the Marathi Mission, a graduate of Wellesley, and now Assistant Secretary of the newly reorganized American Board. She spoke of the missions in India, where she hopes soon to return for permanent service.

COMPULSORY INSURANCE BEING TAKEN CARE OF

Charles M. Evans, president of the Associated Tire Corporation, 1041 Commonwealth Avenue, Boston, reports that on January 20th he was informed that the registrations of motor cars were 2,400 ahead of those on the same date last year.

This shows that the compulsory insurance is more than taken care of by the reduction in cost of tires and tubes.

A LARGE AUDIENCE HEARS MUKERJI IN ARLINGTON

A large and representative audience gathered in the Robbins Memorial Town Hall Sunday afternoon for the Arlington Forum, when Dhan Gopal Mukerji talked on "An Eastern View of European Chaos." Professor Alexander Rice, acting as chairman of the meeting, welcomed Mukerji to the audience.

Marjorie Patten Weaver, cellist, played the "Londonderry Air" and Haydn's "Capriccio." With Mrs. Stella Marek Cushing, violinist, and Mrs. C. Frederic Evans, pianist, she played trios, among them a Nubian Desert Song.

Opening his talk with the remark that since last October, when Germany entered the League of Nations, it might seem that there was no more chaos in Europe, Mukerji made a brief survey of the countries around the Mediterranean. Spain, he said, was breathing easy because, with the help of France, she had conquered the Riffs, but the Riffs were embittered; their minds were not conquered. While the policy of France in North Africa was more enlightened, yet, since she no longer feared a war with Germany when she might need the natives to fight for her, her hand had become heavier. Egypt has gained independence on paper from the British, but not in fact. Palestine is now a refuge for the Jews and the return of these people to their country has created an anti-Semitic sentiment in all the nations of Asia Minor. Britain holds a protectorate over Palestine which she wants because it is a convenient jumping off place for airplanes for Mosul, Persia and India. In Syria, where there have been three massacres, there is hatred of the French. Mussolini, Mukerji characterized as the most dangerous man around the Mediterranean. He has made workers, he said, of the Italian dreamers; he has made them imperialists. Now they want to "grab, grab, grab." They want Abyssinia. But Abyssinia is unwilling to be conquered; and it is a Christian nation; it was a Christian nation before Italy.

The only solution, the only way to prevent the coming of chaos, is a change in European mentality, and of this there is no sign. For what has happened in Asia and North Africa is that the people no longer want to be conquered. In India he said the evil day might be put off ten years; in Persia, five, but in China it has already come. Non-co-operation has been used in North Africa and in China as well as in India. The method is effective because western nations live by selling. The foundation of their civilization is industrial.

He told then how "civilization" and "progress" had come to India. Great factories had been built in which the people worked for from ten to twelve hours a day. Mothers took their babies with them to work and gave them balls of opium to suck to keep them from crying. The people used to come to the temple at sunset to hear the epics read and explained. One night they did not come. The priest was told that they had gone to the cinema and he said to Mukerji, "Let us go." There they found that a Chaplin picture was on. "Mr. Chaplin slid a lump of ice cream down a lady's back, and the priest turned to Mukerji and asked, 'Oh, most learned brother and best beloved, do they do this for pleasure or for edification in the west?'"

The Hindus, he said, believe that holiness is the only thing that matters. Then came the westerners and taught that we must discover the mystery of God by serving our fellow men. But, while it is true that being without deeds is useless, it is also true that deeds without being is useless. The solution is a tremendous synthesis such as is taught by Mahatma Gandhi, who by meditation prepares for the day's work and who asks, "How can you do your day's work if you do not create a being to do that work?"

For such a synthesis, such a sense of the wholeness of spiritual and material life, Mukerji appealed, urging, "We want you to give us that which you call Christ that may give you that which we call Budha."

During the intermission a small boy in the gallery attracted Mukerji's attention and before answering any questions he told a tiger story for him, a story which entertained not only the boys but the grown people in the audience. Particularly interesting was his answer to the question as to whether the League of Nations having prevented six wars might not prevent all wars. He said that the League did not discuss Asiatic questions—the Asiatics he called the "poor relations" at the house party—and in evidence spoke of the French massacres in Syria which, in spite of the fact that France held the Syrian mandate under the League, were not mentioned. He closed the meeting by repeating the blessing given by the Hindu priests at sunset when with night comes silence.

The ushers, members of the Middlesex Sportsman's Association, were President N. J. Hardy, Charles M. Evans, Roger W. Homer, M. H. Chapin, L. Brooks Saville, Charles H. Stevens. While there was a large audience, the collection was small, amounting to only $86.00. This part of the Forum has been a disappointment to the Council this season. There were present a group of people from Belmont, Wellesley and

CAMP WYANOKE AND WINNEMONT ANNUAL REUNION

On Saturday, January 22, at 12 o'clock at the Hotel Brunswick, Boston, a boy trumpeter blew the call to 200 boys and 100 girls for the annual reunions of Camps Wyanoke and Winnemont. Wyanoke is under the direction of Mr. W. H. Bentley, of Winchester, and Winnemont of Miss Rae Frances Baldwin, of Arlington, with Mr. Bentley as business associate.

Mr. Bentley acted as toastmaster at the Wyanoke banquet and told the boys about plans for the coming summer. Other speakers were Mr. Paul Sanderson, head counselor; Rev. Buchanan Bernardin, chaplain, and Chester A. Jenkins, head counselor of Senior camp. Mr. Stanley R. Oldham, Associate Director, introduced the following boy speakers, all of whom made a hit by their naturalness and enthusiasm: Henry Davis, of Lexington, Jack Malley, of Chestnut Hill, Edward Downes, of Winchester, Charles Pingree, of Bradford, and Winfield Perkins, of Topsfield.

Mr. Clarence Nickerson, of Quincy, entertained the boys with humorous monologues, and Paul Byrd, the popular chef at Wyanoke, sang several negro spirituals. Many dads were mixed in with the boys and seemed to get as much fun out of it as they. There was a roll call of tents and a prize for the one having the most boys present.

The Winnemont banquet was in the Egyptian Room. Mr. William Bentley, Principal of the Belmont School, Malden, acted as toastmaster. Miss Rae Frances Baldwin, the Director, and Mrs. Helen C. Chapin, of Providence, a former director, spoke to the girls.

A very pretty dance was given by Eugenia and Ellen Frothingham, of Boston, and the violin solos played by Dorothy Tilden, of South Weymouth, were enjoyed by all.

After the two banquets, the boys and girls sang and danced in the Banquet room. Music was furnished by the Dartmouth Campus Orchestra.

The following were present from Arlington: Lindsay Rice, Hamilton Rice, S. Ward Harris, Wm. Taintor, Jr., Robert Taintor, Arthur Watkins, Anne Marsters, Ruth Marsters, Miss Rae Baldwin, Mr. S. R. Oldham.

The following were present from Lexington: James W. Smith, Jr., and Henry Davis.

Study Each Candidate

While the annual town election does not occur until March 7th, not a little interest in the same is already manifesting itself. There are nomination papers in circulation for the principal town offices and already many signatures have been secured.

It is not everyone who seeks of office that is competent to fill the same. With our present form of procedure any one who secures a sufficient number of signatures may have his name placed on the official ballot. Then it becomes the duty of citizens to ascertain, as far as is in their power, which candidate is best fitted for the office sought.

The town is to be congratulated on the high calibre of the men who in the past have served the town. We believe each has given his conscientious work. It is so easy to criticize, which is too often done without due thought and consideration. If we have men who are willing to give of their time from a busy life to serve the town, we, as citizens, should stand behind them until some act of theirs destroys our confidence. So, in the weeks that intervene before election, let us become acquainted, if possible, with the men and women who are seeking a place on the town ballot, so that we may vote intelligently with only one thought in mind—that of picking the best man for the office sought. Each one will have some qualification, no doubt, but the one who can render the town the best service should receive the support of the majority of our citizens. We are confident that this will occur.

"O'KEEFE'S CIRCUIT" FINELY PRESENTED BY LOCAL TALENT

The young people of St. James' parish, Arlington Heights, scored a big success in their first presentation of a musical comedy, which was a two-act comedy, "O'Keefe's Circuit." The scene was laid in the booking office of the proprietor of a vaudeville booking house and the various acts were those who were seeking a booking, being obliged to put on their act before being allowed to proceed. It was these tryouts that formed the program and every one of the numbers was well done and proved decidedly pleasing to the audience that was generous in their applause.

William F. Kelley was coach and director of the production, while the dancing numbers were under the direction of Miss Gloria Stanley. Each number was worthy of especial mention, but owing to the length of the program and the variety of the numbers it would be impossible to comment on each. Suffice it is to say that everyone on the program was thoroughly enjoyed—Fred McNamara, impersonating Mr. O'Keefe, proprietor of the vaudeville booking house; Gertrude Morris, "Maggie" Hennessy, the stenographer; William Joyce, Bill, the office boy; Josephine McLellan, the spiritualistic medium; Frank J. Power, Deacon Small; Angela M. Leverone, Mrs. Small.

SURPRISE SHOWER TO MISS HESTER V. LEWIS

At the regular meeting of the Mercantile Club on Wednesday evening, at which time Mrs. Clinton Haig of 315 Mass. avenue was hostess, a surprise shower was tendered to Miss Hester V. Lewis, one of the members, when she was made the recipient of many useful gifts. At the close of the evening refreshments were served in the dining room, which was decorated appropriate to the occasion with pink and white. The table was most attractive in the pink and white, carried out with sweet peas and candles. At one end of the table was a bride's cake, ornamented with a miniature doll bride. Miss Lewis' engagement to Mr. Robert Lawton was recently announced and the wedding is to take place next month.

BASKETBALL TEAM HANGS UP ANOTHER VICTORY

One more notch was cut in the handle of the High school victory gun on Tuesday afternoon, when the team went to Winthrop and defeated the Winthrop High team by a score of 14 to 10, giving Winthrop the first defeat that they had suffered thus far this season. Arlington still has a clean slate. The game was not without its hard, fast playing and excitement. The Beach town boys took the lead in the first half that ended with Winthrop 7, Arlington 5. However, Arlington went right after the game in the second half and Driscoll shot three field goals in rapid succession, that put the game on ice and won for the Arlington boys. Lowder made two field baskets. Donahue once more was pocketed so that he could not make his usual run of field goals and only succeeded in caging one. The game drew a large number of fans from Arlington, who went to root for the team. This makes the eighth straight victory for Arlington.

The High school second string outfit nosed out a victory over Winthrop second team, Ross shooting a basket in the last minute of play and the game ended Arlington 13 and Winthrop 12.

FAMILY PARTY

A very pleasant family party was given Mr. L. R. Goodwin, 21 Alpine street, Arlington, on the anniversary of his birth, January 25th. It took the form of a supper, when the family all gathered. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Urquhart of 23 Ossipee road, Somerville; Mr. and Mrs. Irving Nichols of 160 Florence avenue, the Heights; Mr. Roy Goodwin, who is a student at Wentworth Institute, and the two younger boys, Hadley and Stanley. Mrs. Goodwin planned the party and Mrs. Hadley, Mrs. Goodwin's mother, served refreshments. A very pleasant evening was enjoyed by all.

KIWANIS NOTES

The regular weekly meeting of the Arlington Kiwanis Club was held at the Middlesex Sportsman's Club House, Thursday, with a large membership present.

The meeting was called "A Merchants Meeting." The speakers were Harry P. Hopkins, chairman of the Merchants Bureau of the Arlington Board of Trade, and Representative Elliott R. Barker, Past President of the Board of Trade.

One of the aims of the Kiwanis Club is to "Build" and they are going to build Arlington's Business first.

They are going to get behind the Merchants Committee of the Board of Trade and push. The speakers dwelt at length on the necessity of the Merchants Bureau and the great benefits derived by the merchants of the town by joining same.

Mrs. David H. Marston entertained a group of friends from Arlington, Winchester and Boston with a party in honor of her birthday anniversary on Wednesday evening, January 26th, at her home, 82 Orchard street, Medford Hills. The evening was spent with music and dancing. The color scheme of the

The sketch was very well carried out and thoroughly enjoyed by the large number of members of the church present. Music was furnished by an orchestra made up of young people and Mr. Walter C. Gile afforded a generous contribution to the evening's fun with his impersonations. In the sketch the gas range used was loaned by the Arlington Gas Light Company and the scenery arranged for, through the courtesy of the Trinity Athletic Club.

A PERTINENT QUESTION

January 22, 1927.

The Advocate: I was interested to read in this week's issue, your article relative to dangerous conditions on Mass. avenue at Appleton street.

Several years ago, this stretch of Mass. avenue was the scene of many serious accidents, caused by the electric cars and for this reason the Board of Selectmen at that time directed that all cars be ordered to come to a full stop before crossing the foot of Appleton street.

We all know that the increased are each and every one a reason why you should by all means select an ORTHO-SONIC. They mean a maximum of pride and satisfaction at a reasonable cost.

traffic since then, has doubled the danger.

Why our present Board of Selectmen has allowed the Elevated Railroad to discontinue this stop is beyond my understanding. It is not because they do not know about it, for I brought it to their attention last August and was advised that the matter would be taken up with Mr. Dana of the Elevated.

The present car stops create not alone a dangerous situation, but a congestion of traffic, both unnecessary. There have already been accidents here and many narrow escapes. Must someone be killed before the situation is remedied? Does the Boston Elevated control our streets or do our Town Officials?

The time to abolish this hazard is now and the remedy is to replace both inbound and outbound car stops where they were previously.

I think also while on this subject, that stops should be placed to care for our high school and this whole matter of car stops in town be looked into and so arranged that the car rider be shown at least a little consideration.

Very truly yours,
CLINTON W. SCHWAMB.

Chats With Your Gas Man

YES, THANK YOU!

Did you enjoy your dinner? Thank the gas man.

Do you live in a warm, comfortable house without furnace tending? Thank the gas man.

Do you find a hot flood of water on tap all the time? Thank the gas man.

Do you get the washing, drying and ironing done in a third the former time and with none of the old drudgery? Thank the gas man.

Because gas is such an everyday necessity we often forget to consider just how important a part it plays in our lives. Gas it, always serving, always willing. And so reasonable in price. It costs twice as much to supply the nation with cigars and cigarettes as it does to serve 10,600,000 customers with gas for their entire cooking, heating and lighting!

WINNIFRED KING RUGG

IN LITERATURE COURSE

The second lecture in the Current Literature Course by Winnifred King Rugg, sponsored by the Sowers Lend-a-Hand Club, was held at the Parish House, Tuesday morning, at ten-thirty o'clock. The response to the sale of tickets has been so gratifying that the lecture room was full of eager, interested listeners when Mrs. Rugg took her place at the desk. Quoting Mr. Phelps of Yale, the names of Edith Wharton, Zona Gale, Willa Cather and Ellen Glasgow were placed at the top of the list of American women novelists, while those of Margaret DeLand, Edna Furrer, Ann W. Sedgwick were added by Mrs. Rugg, who placed Mrs. Morris, Fanny Hurst and Mary Roberts Rhinehart as close seconds. Among the younger writers, were mentioned Ann Parrish, Elizabeth Maddox Roberts and others. Comparisons are proverbially odious, but in Mrs. Rugg's opinion, granting that this is a woman's age, she has not yet attained to heights reached by many men writers as women writers have not achieved, as yet, composite writing as did their sister, Jane Austen, who interpreted English Country Life so perfectly. (There is a Renaissance of Jane Austen just now throughout England.)

Edith Wharton has stated that two fundamental principles are necessary for success in novel writing: first, the power of selection, and second, the slow development of characters, either toward good or bad.

The first book discussed was "My Mortal Enemy" by Willa Cather, in which the author has condensed her way of expression to a remarkable degree. "Self" was found to be the enemy.

"Preface to a Life" by Zona Gale, slowly developed her main character to the age of fifty-two, when he discovers that life is just beginning. "Romantic Comedians" by Ellen Glasgow is not her finest in theme, but her gentle irony throughout the book is perfectly executed. This Richmond thoroughbred makes fun of all her characters in this book.

The speaker, always fascinating in her humor, referring to the hero in "Romantic Comedians," who on ship-board on his way to his fiancée across the water, met and suddenly became engaged to another, interpolated, "It is not so much the woman, you know, as the place and the time."

"The Keys" by Margaret DeLand, disclosed not so much the idea of pacifism as a novel of forgiving love.

Dorothy Canfield Fisher's "Her Son's Wife," is considered by Mr. Phelps as the best novel of the year.

"The Show Boat" by Edna Furrer shows strong writing with characters drawn with vigorous stroke, but in Mrs. Rugg's opinion, the canvas is too big; it "sprawls" over too much space and time.

The highest praise was given Elizabeth Maddox Roberts and her novel, "Time of Man," as depicting life as not frustrated, although perhaps unhappy. In this book, the inner life of the heroine is developed, the spiritual thought dominates, which makes life worth while.

Mrs. Rugg outlined each story mentioned above in her brief, yet illuminating way, which is an art.

The next lecture occurs Feb. 8th, topic, "Roads to Romance Through Fiction."

ARLINGTON WOMAN'S CLUB NOTES

The last meeting of the club was open to the waiting list, many availing themselves of the opportunity of hearing Hughes Means, author of "Creative Youth," speak on "Freeing the Creative Spirit." The lecture was made doubly interesting because Mr. Means read from his well known book. Alice Allen Drayton, chairman of the music department of the State Federation, gave a group of piano numbers that were much enjoyed. The president, Mrs. J. Herbert Mead, announced that the recommendations made by the board to the club members, and which had been sent out on a post card to each member, would not be voted upon until the next meeting. In order to give more time for the same to be considered by the members of the club. The first recommendation is "that the money set aside for a club center be discontinued as such and transferred to the Savings Bank account of the club." The second recommendation is "that one thousand dollars be taken from the Savings Bank account of the club and be set aside as a nucleus for a permanent scholarship fund."

Announcement was made of the exhibition to be held by the Boston sculptors and architects in Boston at a later date and in which the State Federation of Women's Clubs is interested. Mr. Cyrus E. Dallin is making a model of a statue for the exhibition. Miss Esther Wyman is putting it in a proper setting, using her talent as a landscape gardener, while Mr. William Proctor, one of Arlington's well known architects, is lending his knowledge in making what is likely to be one of the most attractive exhibits in the exhibition. Money will be needed to carry forward this work and at this time the club voted $40 to be expended under the direction of the art committee of the club, of which Mrs. Lewis Stickney is the chairman, and who is giving the club a great deal of her valuable time on this committee.

Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole will give her second lecture in the Current Events Course, Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 2, at 2:30 o'clock, in High School hall.

Thursday afternoon, Feb. 3, at the regular club meeting in Robbins Memorial Town Hall, Mrs. Nancy Schoonmaker will lecture on "Woman's Part in the New Europe." Blanche Haskell, soprano, will sing a group of songs before the lecture.

GEORGE F. MEAD GIVEN HONORARY MEMBERSHIP

George F. Mead, a former resident of Lexington, and father of J. Herbert Mead, of Arlington, has recently been given honorary membership in the National League of Commission Merchants at a convention held in Chicago last week of the league. It has long been the custom of the league to recognize those who have rendered distinguished service to the industry by conferring honorary membership.

Mr. Mead served the League as national president in 1905, and for many years as a member of the League's car line committee. Although about 76 years of age, Mr. Mead is still active in business and head of the firm of J. D. Mead Co., of Boston, which concern was founded in 1853 and is now about the oldest Commission House here—they will be 75 years old next year.

He is also an ex-president of the Boston Fruit and Produce Exchange and was in the Legislature during 1895-96 as a Representative of Arlington and Lexington. He now resides at No. 77 Appleton street, Arlington.

He has always given freely of his time to promote civic interests and the welfare of the produce trade so this honor is well deserved and greatly appreciated by him as he knew nothing of any such action being even contemplated. It is about the highest honor which could possibly come to anyone in this line of business as the League covers the entire United States.

CLYDE McARDLE MOURNED BY THOUSANDS

Thousands of friends, the majority of whom make up the radio audience of W N A C, were saddened on last Friday to learn of the death of Clyde McArdle of this town, chief "smiler" of the well known "Smilers' Club" of the above radio station. Taken in the prime of life, (he was only 35 years of age) his death is a great shock to his many friends. Mr. McArdle was the originator of the "Smilers' Club" over the radio, which has been enjoyed three evenings a week by radio enthusiasts.

That his entertainments have been appreciated, was demonstrated by the thousands of letters that were received at his home and at the Elliot Hospital after his removal there for observation and treatment. For a time, at the hospital, the deceased showed an improvement, when suddenly another phase of the disease developed, which made a blood transfusion necessary. Mr. Bernard V. Gillooly, a fireman, offered his life blood, but to no avail, as death came early Friday morning. He was true to his motto and kept smiling to the very end.

Tribute was paid him on Friday through W E I and from his own station, W N A C, but respecting the wishes of Mr. McArdle, the programs were presented as usual.

Mr. McArdle made his home, with his wife and two children, at 56 Newcomb street. He was a native of Lowell, where he received his early theatrical business experience, and was a member of two stock companies there. Later he joined the Somerville Stock Company and was always a great favorite with the theatre goers. He conceived the idea of putting sunshine into the homes of the thousands of radio fans and he started his "Smilers' Club." Here three evenings each week he was on hand with a program that brought sunshine and joy into the home, the hospital and the club. His programs were varied in character, always arranged to please everyone, ending with his inimitable and cheery words: "Good Night and—Keep Smiling."

The funeral was held on Monday morning, the body being taken to Lowell for the services, which were held in St. Peter's Church, where a solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated. Rev. John E. Sexton being the celebrant, assisted by Rev. Francis L. Shea and Rev. John Mallon. The music was under the direction of James E. Donnelly. The services were attended by about 400 persons. Lowell Lodge of Elks, of which the deceased was a member, attended the services and escorted the remains to St. Patrick's Cemetery, where Elks' services were held.

WILLIAM A. MULLER SPEAKS BEFORE HISTORICAL SOCIETY

The Arlington Historical Society met Tuesday evening in the parlor of the First Parish (Unitarian) church, with an unusually large number of members present. No doubt the subject and speaker announced were the reasons. The subject was "Legislation in connection with Menotomy river," and the speaker, Mr. William A. Muller. No one person was better fitted to tell this story of how the necessary improvements were brought about to make possible a connecting parkway between the Metropolitan Park system and the Mystic and Charles rivers via the Alewife brook basin. Mr. Muller was the prime mover in putting through a project that has reclaimed Alewife brook and the land bordering on it, which had become a menace to the health of the people living in its vicinity because of conditions existing there after Cambridge had been granted a right to use the brook as a part of its sewage system.

Before telling his interesting story, Mr. Muller drew a word picture of Alewife brook in the early days, when its clear-flowing, full stream of water teemed with fish and beside which the farmer loved to stop and water his horses and bask in the beauties of the stream, near which stood two stately elms, like sentinels guarding the entrance to Menotomy, now known as Arlington. He then spoke briefly of the changed condition of the stream caused by the grant given to Cambridge which finally led to the strenuous effort being started to reclaim what was once a beauty spot and an asset to the town.

It was a long story, beginning in 1897, when some citizens of Arlington felt that a parkway through some portion of the town connecting the existing Metropolitan reservations on the Mystic river and Charles river, would be very desirable, and so, despite discouragements on June 23, 1909, the first spade of earth was removed. Mr. Muller was given this honor in recognition of his indefatigable work which ultimately will transform one of the most unsanitary districts in the Metropolitan district into one of the most beautiful spots in the Metropolitan Park System.

Gloucester and Everett
Fail to Stop ArlingtonA FEW HIGH LIGHTS ON THE GLOUCESTER GAME

The best, cleanest, fastest and most nerve racking of any game in the past few years.

Callahan and Ross of the visitors were the point makers but the rest of the team was busy keeping Arlington from scoring.

Two of those long shots from the center of the floor by Ross, both for perfect baskets, surely put the fans in a flutter. Every time he threw the ball a hush went over the place. Several times he took these shots the ball hit the iron rim of the basket. Other times the ball rolled around the rim and dropped out, much to the delight of the local fans.

Donahue was covered so well that he could not make any of his baskets count. Many of his shots he had to try backhanded and many times narrowly missed scoring.

Beasley was also so well covered that he could not make a shot. Gloucester was evidently coached to take care of these two men, who usually do much of the scoring.

LeCain, who refereed a great game, was master of the situation all the way through. Strict and quick, he made the teams realize at the very outset that he was in charge and that the rules would be lived up to the letter. This makes for better basketball.

It will, in all probability, be a long time before there will be another such basketball game as was played here Friday evening, January 21, in the High school gymnasium between the High school sextet and the Gloucester High team. The fans, and there were a large number on hand, were given all the thrills that they could stand for one evening. The boys from the Cape Ann section were defeated but they went down in a game replete with extra fine playing and in one of the fastest and hardest games seen here for many a season. The Everett high game of the earlier part of the week was considered a good one, but this Gloucester game put that one in the shade so far as hard playing and excitement went. One of the best basketball referees in this section, LeCain, formerly of Tufts, was in charge of the game and his quick and strict interpretation of the rules of the game resulted in producing the cleanest game of basketball of the season.

The clearest ideas of the game can be obtained by taking the play by periods. In the first, Gloucester went at Arlington to solve their style of play and scored a basket just after the game started. Three times during this period the score was tied and finally Arlington edged away. When the period ended the score stood Arlington nine and Gloucester, five. Shortly after the next period opened Gloucester again got going and pulled their score up to eleven points, only to have it tied by a basket by Arlington, but this was for a short time, Gloucester scoring two more baskets and Arlington one, so that this period, which also ended the first half, closed with Gloucester ahead, 15 to 13.

In the second half Arlington changed its style of play. This bothered the Gloucester players a whole lot because their scout of a week or two previous had seen Arlington play one style and evidently on this the Gloucester boys had depended, so that when Arlington changed over to another style (and they have at least five different styles) the boys from Cape Ann were visibly worried. This period was a fast one with the two teams about nip and tuck. Once in this period the score tied at 21 but Arlington got a free shot for a foul play and made it, putting them ahead at the close of the third period, 22 to 21.

In the last period the fans were on edge every second. The Gloucester boys took all kinds of chances, long shots for the basket being much in evidence and many of them hitting the basket but bouncing out again for no tally. In this period, Driscoll shot a basket from the floor. This added two points and eventually gave Arlington the game. It was with a sigh of relief that they were able to breathe again. It was with a sigh of relief that they were able to breathe again. It was with a sigh of relief that they were able to breathe again.

Capt. Joe Donahue was kept from shooting a basket from the floor by Gloucester, so well he covered, but Lowder eluded his man twice for tallies. Driscoll, pivot man of the team, was the basket thrower of the evening, and his four from the floor helped along by two from the floor by McNamara and Lowder's two, made the game safe. Every player was a star in this game. The Gloucester boys put up a terrible battle and for a time looked like winners. They played a fine, clean game, in fact one of the cleanest playing teams that has come here in a long time. To the Arlington boys, who have yet to be defeated this season (or last season) by any High school aggregation, is due all the credit that they can get. They work like a piece of machinery, evidently only having one idea, that of winning for their school.

"BRIG" YOUNG ENTERTAINS ON HIS BIRTHDAY

Seventy-one years ago on January 20th there arrived in Lowell, a young man, Freeman N. Young, who created no special interest only to the proud parents, but later when he entered the business world, steadily rose to prominence through the beverage that he and his associate, Francis E. Thompson, of Arlington, put onto the market, the well known Moxie, that has grown in popularity, so that today the company has a wonderful up-to-date plant managed in the most approved style as far as sanitary conditions in production is concerned, with Fred M. Archer as president of the company.

Mr. Young, who has a unique residence at 372 Mystic street, Arlington, has always taken a special interest in the Middlesex Sportsman's Association, and the club house on the shores of Spy Pond, formerly the Arlington Boat Club, gives evidence of the generosity of "Brig" Young as he is familiarly known. In fact, Mr. Young by choice, is known as the "office boy" of the association, but unlike some office boys he is never idle and his fertile brain is constantly thinking up some way in which to improve the club house and to make it a place where young people will love to come for clean, wholesome sports, for in his younger days play was denied "Brig" Young.

This place has been chosen by Mr. Young on former occasions to entertain his host of friends, who on last Thursday evening were again invited to gather at the club house for an old time party. Louis Pool's orchestra was engaged for music with orders that the old time dances should be given the preference, although the pleasure of his younger guests was not overlooked on the program. However, it was interesting to see how quick the young people fell into the old fashioned steps and even clapped for encores. Mr. Young had requested that this be his party absolutely, with no gifts in recognition of the birthday, but Fred Archer could not resist the temptation of putting something over on "Brig." A large box securely bound with iron tape was carried into the hall and presented to "Brig." After some fifteen minutes' hard work the box was opened, only to find that it would require some labor to unwrap the contents, which, when completed, was discovered to be two large candy canes. Another box contained a beautiful basket of roses for Mrs. Young. Mr. Young made every one present feel the warmth of his hospitality as he greeted them on entering the hall, which was recently redecorated so as to be ready for this anniversary. The Hardy Catering Company served ice cream and cake. Mr. Young has been host to the Old Time baseball players, known as the Junior Baseball Players of Mass., 1873-4 and 5, being an ardent baseball fan and former player on the old Bartlett's of Lowell in his boyhood days. He was one of the best outfield men of that time. Many happy returns of the day, "Brig."

BOY SCOUT NOTES

The feature of the Elimination Contests for the Shield last week was the remarkable total of 603 points run up by Troop 8 of Arlington, the Commissioner's Troop, against Troop 3 of Belmont, Friday evening, Jan. 21, in the Belmont High School gym. It was a particularly hard contest for Troop 3 to lose, as the boys from Belmont amassed 458 points, which was more than any other troop had hitherto obtained during the season. Troop 8 won all the events but one by the following scores: Morse Signalling, 120; First Aid, 83; Drill, 75; Questionnaire, 105; Semaphore, 100; Knot Tying, 120. Troop 3—Morse Signalling, 60; First Aid, 67; Drill, 50; Questionnaire, 81; Semaphore, 100; Knot Tying, 100.

On Monday, Jan. 17, Troop 9 of Arlington defeated Troop 1 of Lexington by a score of 300 to 264 at the Lexington High School. The points were made as follows: Troop 1—Morse Signalling, 60; First Aid, 54; Drill, 80; Questionnaire, 70; Troop 9—First Aid, 52; Drill, 20; Questionnaire, 78; Semaphore, 100; Knot Tying, 50.

The annual meeting of the Executive Board of Schem Council, Inc., was held Thursday evening, Jan. 20, at Scout Headquarters, Old Town Hall. Pres. H. L. Frost presided. The following chairmen of committees were approved: Court of Honor, O. E. Loomis; Finance, Ernest M. Steele; Troop Organization, Roger Wilcox of Belmont; Civic Service, Thos. O. D. Urquhart; Reading Program, Prof. Edmund M. Morgan; Camping, Charles M. Evans, and Publicity and Education, Geo. B. C. Rugg.

Walter T. Chamberlain was appointed Auditor and member of the Executive Board, and Alexander Chandler of Belmont was appointed to the Board.

The Board approved the commissions of three Deputy Commissioners as follows: Carlton D. Smith of Arlington, H. P. Cobb of Belmont and Carl Vienot of Lexington.

The report of Commissioner Warren H. Blaisdell, Jr., was read and approved. This was one of the strongest reports ever submitted on scouting in Arlington and was the subject of much favorable comment.

—Saturday, Feb. 5th, marks the fifth anniversary of Arlington Lodge of Elks. The members are planning to have a stag party at the Elks home, corner of Bartlett and Mass. avenues. An elaborate program is being arranged for.

—Hereafter, in St. Agnes church on Sunday there will be a mass especially for the children, in the lower church, at 9.00 o'clock. This is for the children exclusively. The other masses are the same hours as usual: 7.00, 8.30, 9.30, 10.30 and 11.30 in the upper church.

—At last reports, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Birch were staying at the Volcano House on the brink of Kilauea. They report the Crater as being perfectly safe to walk across. The only evidence of something unusual being the white vapor which comes out of the ground in numerous spots. They leave Honolulu on the 19th for Auckland, New Zealand.

BURGLARS MAKE THEIR APPEARANCE HERE

Friday night there were two attempts at breaking and entering and one break reported to the police, all in one section, which made it appear that the same burglar was at work here. Mrs. Francis Paton of 150 Mystic Valley Parkway came home to find that her home had been entered and that a number of small articles had been taken. She telephoned to her mother, Mrs. Robillard, of 154 Mystic Valley Parkway, only to receive the information that an attempt had been made to enter that house. On the same evening, George Leavitt called the station with the information that an attempt had been made to enter his house at 37 Fordham street, but that the young man, who was seen by Mrs. Leavitt, was evidently frightened away. The police were given a fairly good description of the young man.
